

ARCH, Inc. Endangered List Nomination

ARCH maintains a list of local historic sites and structures that are actively threatened by any number of pressures. Throughout the year, nominations to this list are compiled, and the list is updated. Every May, in conjunction with National Preservation Month, ARCH releases its the newest list of endangered places.

The annual Endangered List is intended to raise awareness about threatened historic recourses in our local area. Throughout the year, ARCH plays close attention to the sites on the list and continuously works to find solutions to preserve these places for future generations.
